Read the passage below and answer the following question.

The amount of homework which is given to students appears to differ from school to school. While some schools give large amounts of homework, other schools leave students with almost no homework at all. Recently, some schools are adopting a no-homework-policy. However, this is causing a controversy.

Some are very happy about these schools' action, as it leaves time for the students to spend more time with family and friends. Some also believe this reduces stress and gives them more time to participate in other learning activities, such as playing outside in nature.

However, not all are happy about this change. Some think homework allows students to review what they learned in school. Others worry that if no homework is given to students, the students will not spend any time outside of school studying. Some also say that homework may help students to learn the importance of handling responsibility.

QUESTION

State in your own words the positive and negative points on the schools' no-homework-policy presented in the passage. After this, state your opinion with reasoning based on your experiences and knowledge. Even if your opinion is the same as the reasons mentioned in the passage, you must include your own reasoning.
