Read the passage below and answer the following question.

The amount of homework which is given to students appears to differ from school to school. While some schools give large amounts of homework, other schools leave students with almost no homework at all.

Recently, some schools are adopting a no-homework-policy. While some welcome this change, not everyone seems to be happy about this, causing a controversy and leading to a public debate.

QUESTION

Give possible explanations on the positive and negative points on the no-homework-policy. After this, state your opinion with reasons based on your experiences and knowledge. Even if your opinion is the same as the reasons you have previously mentioned, you must include your own reasoning.
