Read the passage below and answer the following question.

Dog owners will soon to be ordered by law to walk their pets twice a day. The country is introducing the new law based on evidence that many of the nation's 9.4 million dogs are not getting the exercise or stimuli they need. Under the new regulations, owners will not get away with a quick jog round the block, but will be required to take their dogs out for at least one hour in total. The rules were based on new scientific findings that show dogs need a sufficient measure of activity and contact with other animals, nature and people. "Dogs are not cuddly toys. They also have their own needs, which need to be taken into account." News of the law, which is due to be introduced next year and was made widely known for the first time this week, has prompted a lively debate.
